

Your Image
by
Monica M. Burns

Your Image and the way that you dress tells outsiders who are looking in, a lot about the type of person that they think you are.

If you are always wearing nice tailored suits or any other clothing that fits you well, you are often perceived as intimidating and very confident. If you are always wearing baggy clothing that's really not complimenting your body in any way at all, you are often perceived as someone who isn't comfortable with her body and has low self-esteem, and is ashamed to show off its curves. If you are always showing skin on the top and bottom leaving nothing to the imagination, you are very well perceived as a slut.

Now it really doesn't matter what people think about on deciding who you are. Who are they to judge you by what you are wearing anyway. Just because you wear baggy clothing does not mean that you have low self-esteem and wearing tailored suits doesn't necessarily mean that you are confident, but you are perceived as such.

Sometimes people define and identify you by your image. An image that you created. You probably didn't realize that you were creating an image when you got up this morning and got dressed. When you dress a certain way, just be comfortable with yourself regardless of what others think. If you are going for a particular signature image that will identify you, then you'll need to dress the part. If you want to be perceived as professional and classy..dress as such! If you are not comfortable with your body type, you may need to gradually introduce change into your wardrobe to see what works for you. If you get unwanted attention from guys because you show too much skin, when you wear a mini-skirt you need to cover your top parts. If you are showing your chest or cleavage with deep cut shirts, then you'll need to cover up the bottom parts. You can still be sexy and classy all at the same time!

Have Fun In Whatever You Wear.....Just Be Classy!

Monica M. Burns
©2005-2006 Monica M. Burns. All Rights Reserved.

About The Author - Image Consultant/Fashion Stylist

Monica M. Burns is a Writer, Expert Author, and Image Consultant/Fashion Stylist. She is President and Founder of Fabulous Life Image Consulting. She is also Founding Editor and President of Monica M. Burns Inc. Publications and Fabulous Life Image Online Magazine. She is an Expert in her field with over ten (10) years of experience. She has authored several eBooklets and other reading information materials and is a featured Expert Author and Writer on many websites and in many In-Print and Online Magazines. She has also contributed to several poetic anthologies and won awards for her work.

If you would like to copy or publish any of this author's articles or other reading materials electronically or in print to your websites, ebooks, newsletters, ezines, or any other publications, you MUST include this Author's Byline and all of the Contact and Ordering Information.

Visit Her Websites At:

<http://thefabulouslife.tripod.com>

<http://fabulouslifeimagemag.sm4.biz>

<http://thefablife.weblodge.net>